

I live in the most southern region of Portugal, the Algarve and after many years of painting, I felt that it was time to do something meaningful with my art. So, I decided to combine two things close to my heart – being creative and helping abandoned dogs.

Together we can make a difference!

Title: The Lake

This painting is a reminder to live in the present because this is where life happens. So, if you think that you could do with a daily reminder, perhaps this painting is just for you!

The canvas edges are painted blue but of course it would look very nice in a floating frame. I would be happy to assist you.

As you might know, every month I dedicate one of my paintings to raise donations for StreetLife Animal Sterilisation Programme and for the month of November, I have chosen "The Lake". Every time I look at this painting the memory of this moment comes back:

Sitting on a lake in the forest on a glorious warm and sunny day, watching the light reflections on the calm, murky water and the green patches of water lentils on the surface. It is totally peaceful. I am listening to the birds in the trees and the grebes on the lake. Suddenly, there is a golden ripple on the surface and before I can show this to my husband, whatever it was is gone and the lake is as quiet as before keeping it's secret, just under the surface.

In that instant, I knew that this was one of those happy, golden moments. For this very moment I truly lived in the present. Something I don't do enough, because I spend way too much time thinking of the past and worrying about the future.
